

LAND CONTRACT INTRODUCED IN THE BORAH TRIAL

First Attempt Made to Connect Steunenberg
With Land Frauds.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 27.—Government counsel in Senator Borah's trial for alleged complicity in the Idaho land frauds sought to introduce in evidence today a copy of a contract they charged was entered into between former Governor Frank Steunenberg and William Sweet, in February, 1902, to acquire Boise valley lands.

Attempt to Show Fraud.

The prosecution plans to follow this instrument with a $47,500 joint note on a Boise bank, executed by Sweet and Steunenberg. It is the Government's intention to attempt to show that the lands in question were acquired by fraudulent means.

Steunenberg's Connection.

This is the prosecution's first real attempt to prove Steunenberg's connection with the alleged frauds, and is strongly opposed by the defense, as Borah is fighting to clear his friend Steunenberg's name as well as his own. District Attorney Reuker was called before the special grand jury yesterday to explain his conduct at the investigation before the Borah grand jury.

NEGRO ATTACKS GIRL; TWO BOYS SAVE HER

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Lillian Koch, eighteen, daughter of John Koch, a well-to-do merchant of Jamaica, L. I., was attacked yesterday afternoon by a negro on the Old Country road, near Mineola, and rescued by two fifteen-year-old boys. The negro attacked the girl, and she was taken to the Mineola Fair, where Judge Patterson held an improvised court. Miss Koch declared the man innocent, and he was freed.

FERRYBOAT CAPSIZES AND DROWNS SIXTEEN

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 27.—Leslie Vernulle, the son of W. B. Vernulle, chief engineer of the Government work at McGraw's shoals, on the Tombigbee river, and fifteen negroes were drowned in the river about noon yesterday. They were crossing the stream in a little ferry boat en route to their dinner, when they drifted down stream and the craft became uncontrollable and capsized in the rapids.

Eva Tanguay Sued; Wife Asks $50,000

MISS EVA TANGUAY,
Who Is Sued by Mrs. Martha Zittel Because Zittel Made Her Stage "Favorite."

Husband's "Dope Sheets" Give Mrs. Zittel Her Clues.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—"Eva Tanguay, 16 to 1" backed down to "Eva Tanguay, 1 to the United States Treasury," are the odds that resulted in the breaking up of a theatrical critic's home. Shortly after Miss Tanguay had been served with papers in a $50,000 alienation suit and the critic with divorce papers, the actress was back on the stage singing blithely, "I May Be Crazy, But I Don't Care."

made considerable money, is what brought on his marital woes, for his wife, by studying it carefully, observed that Miss Tanguay's odds were being backed down all out of proportion to the odds.

Says Zittel's Infatuation Grew. Through her attorney, Mrs. Zittel alleges that Zittel, or "Zita," as he is known, first met Miss Tanguay on June 27. She apparently made a deep impression on him, for four days later his chart mentioned her as "the one best bet." All of these charts are now to be produced by Mrs. Zittel, with the idea of showing the rapidity with which her husband fell in love with the lady whose critic he was, and she promises also to prove that the actress soon began to pay him $200 a week as her manager.

MISSOURI "TARS" MAY MISS CHANCE

Gunboat Huntress Gets
Order for Ammunition,
But May Not Salute
President.

Members of the Missouri Naval Militia, who have recently been sailing the briny deep on the naval gunboat Huntress, may fire off the guns of the little war vessel as much as they like and salute President Roosevelt every time he turns around upon his arrival in St. Louis, October 2, if they succeed in reaching there before the President does.

The letter reached the Navy Department a week ago, and Captain Bowyer would be promptly shipped on a requisition made out by Captain Roberts and forwarded through the adjutant general and governor of the State. Such a requisition not having been received up to today, Captain Bowyer arranged with the commandant of the League Island navy yard to ship at once 100 rounds of saluting charges to St. Louis.

make good. This made Mrs. Zittel even more suspicious, and she used the detective to greater effort, getting her brother, Sol Bernstein, to join them. So far as the complaint goes, the most important allegation refers to August 29, when the detectives say, they followed Miss Tanguay and Zittel to a Brighton Beach hotel.

Havemeyer, Liberal Grandfather.

Miss Tanguay, when she was a comedienne in "The Sambo Girl," a few years ago, was followed about the country by the white-haired millionaire widower, Frederick Havemeyer. Mr. Havemeyer gave her diamonds galore and sealink snuggles that made the little actress an interesting sight to see. The right-hand stage box at every performance of "The Sambo Girl" and "The Chaparrons" in New York and various other cities of the country always held Mrs. Havemeyer, who sat in one chair and used the other for her hat.

MRS. OLIVER ISELIN GODDARD'S BENEFICIARY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 27.—The will of the multi-millionaire Col. William Goddard was filed today for probate in the court at Warwick, R. I., and under its provisions, Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, daughter of the second wife of the famous yachtsman, is to receive about one-half of the estate, which is estimated to be worth all the way from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000.

Tramp Reveals Picture's Value To Poor Woman

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—After living for thirty years with a masterpiece of art in her home, Mrs. Catherine O'Brien, of Brooklyn, was told of the fact out two weeks ago by a tramp. Since then she has refused an offer of $1,300, and another of $700 for the picture. The picture is probably by Sir Joshua Reynolds, or at least by one of his contemporaries, and has been appraised at a value of $20,000. It is an excellent example of the epoch.

Thomas V. O'Brien, her husband, is employed at a small salary in the city tax office. "We have always been poor," said Mrs. O'Brien. "This discovery will mean everything in the world to us. I obtained the picture from my father, to whom it was given in 1877 by his employer, Jacob Campbell, president of the Pacific Bank. As he gave him the present, he said: 'You will never want while you have this picture.'"

THEATER MAN KILLED AND AUTOIST ESCAPES

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—A general alarm was sent out last night by the Newark police to nearby towns for the capture of the occupants of an automobile which ran down and fatally injured Marcus J. Jacobs, lessee and manager of the Columbia Theater, Newark. Jacobs died an hour later, at 9 p. m., in St. Barnabas Hospital.

THREE DROWNED FROM SKIFF.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 27.—Lawton Wilson, of Bainbridge, Ga., and two negroes employed in the construction of a bridge over the Tombigbee river, near Aliceville, Ala., were drowned while crossing the river in a skiff. It is not known what caused the accident.

MRS. BIRNEY TO GO HOME.

Mrs. Theodore Birney, who is ill in Homeopathic Hospital, will probably be removed to her home in Chevy Chase within a few days. Mrs. Birney's condition is still quite serious, but she is improving daily.
